JCD observes hunger strike on DU campus

Varsity Correspondent

Jatiyatabadi Chhatra Dal (JCD) on Thursday observed its scheduled token hunger strike far away from the VC's House.

JCD, the BNP's student wing, announced the programme in front of the VC's House as part of its ongoing nonstop student strike on the campus demanding resignation of the university's Vice Chancellor.

Earlier, the university syndicate imposed ban on holding processions and rallies around the VC's House and the Administrative Building. A huge contingent of police was deployed on the campus to avoid any untoward incident.

All kinds of vehicular movement came to a halt between TSC and VC's House as police sealed the entire area for four hours.

Teachers, students and employees of the university faced police harassment during the time. Police even forced the teachers to get down from the vehicles, witnesses said.

Leaders and supporters of JCD brought out a procession and held a rally at the main entrance of the university's Arts Faculty. There they observed the programme for three hours.
