BCL calls hartal on DU campus today

Varsity Correspondent

The pro-Awami League Chhatra League (S-P) will enforce a half-day hartal on Dhaka University campus and its adjoining areas today (Thursday) in protest against police attack on its activists.

Chhatra League (S-P) announced the hartal programme on Wednesday night and held separate processions and rallies on Dhaka University campus and in front of the National Press Club.

Speakers at the rallies strongly condemned the police action against the students of Jagannath Hall and called upon people to voice against the repression and oppression of BNP government.

At least one hundred students were injured when activists of Chhatra League (S-P) confronted with police on Wednesday in protest against today's (Thursday's) visit of the Prime Minister to Bangla Academy.

Chhatra Oikya Parishad (COP) expressed solidarity with the half-day hartal programme of Chhatra League (S-P) and called upon students to resist today's (Thursday's) visit of the Prime Minister to Bangla Academy.

COP strongly condemned the police action against students and demanded punishment of those police personnel responsible for the incident.
