

Scarcity of text-books in Panchagarh

PANCHAGARH, Apr. 10.—The study of students who are studying in high schools here have been hampered due to scarcity of text books.

Some unscrupulous traders who hoarded the books of last year are been to dispose of their old stock.

On the other hand, buyers, however alleged, that same traders are selling books at exorbitant price to make windfall profit.

Guardians complained that their wards are facing difficulties to follow classes without books which are rarely available in book stalls.

Some books are, however, being sold at exorbitant prices beyond the purchasing capacity of a large number of students.

Sufferers have urged the concerned authorities to ensure smooth supply of textbooks to the local markets at fair prices.
