Badrunnesa College teachers to observe 2-hr work abstention

Varsity Correspondent

Teachers of Government Badrunnesa Women's College will observe two hours work abstention from 10 am in protest against the ransacking of the house of the College Principal, and destruction of property by some miscreants and demanding security to the students and teachers.

The decision was taken at a meeting to the teachers' held on Friday at the College premises.

A group of miscreants entered the house of College Principal forcibly and ransacked the house and college property on August 19.
