BOU orientation session of MBA programme held

Speakers at the orientation session of the first batch students of MBA programme of Bangladesh Open University (BOU) Friday termed the course as "one of the timely, efficient and prudent academic endeavours initiated by BOU", reports BSS.

BOU Vice-Chancellor Professor M Aminul Islam chaired the discussion. Among others, Vice-Chancellor of Dhaka University Professor A.K. Azad Chowdhury and course coordinator Monirul Islam participated in the discussion held at the tutorial centre of BOU at Dhaka University.

Prof A.K. Azad Chowdhury said exceptional and frontierless educational system (of Open University) made BOU popular among the students. The MBA course offered by the BOU provides unique opportunities for enhancing professional skills and newer horizons of learning, he observed.

Professor M Aminul Islam opined that BOU designed the course to meet the requirements of the work-oriented educational programmes, BOU wants to set a new positive trend in the field of higher education, he added.
