BOU introduces teleconferencing system

Bangladesh Open University (BOU) is shortly introducing the most modern teleconferencing system. With the introduction of this two-way communication system, BOU will be able to confer at a time with all its regional centres and impart education and send and receive messages on management and other important matters, says a Press release.

This was stated by the Vice-Chancellor Prof. M Aminul Islam who was presiding over a "Workshop on Operation and Use of Teleconferencing in Distance Education." He added that the system will play an important role in the field of education.

Eminent education specialist of the Commonwealth of Learning (COL) David Walker explained about the use and operation of the system. Pro-Vice-Chancellor Dr. R I Sharif also spoke on various aspects of the system.
