NUB begins academic activities

Northern University, Bangladesh has begun its academic activities as a full-fledged university with the approval of the Ministry of Education and University Grants Commission from October, 2002, says a Press release.

This is a brainchild of some eminent and renowned educationists and professors of different universities. Though this institution has newly appeared as a university it has been functioning its academic activities as IBAT since 1999. And it has already earned a great fame in the realm of education as a dispenser of quality higher education. At present there are more than five hundred students studying in its three faculties (BBA, MBA, and BSc in Computer Science). Under the supervision of a teaching staff experienced at home and abroad the institution helps the students get internationally qualified.
