The Dhaka University students are going to the grip of an unscheduled session-jam as results of Bachelor's examinations of many departments are still unpublished.

Students of many departments of the Faculty of Arts, Social Science, Science and Biological Science alleged that their result of the Bachelor's and year final examinations are yet to be published after six to nine months of the examinations.

Students of the department of Anthropology are facing acute crisis over the publishing of the Bachelor's examination results even after nine months.

The students expressed their resentments at the delay of publishing of results. "We can't even apply for any job and our guardians are in doubt whether we appeared in the exams or not.

In the Department of Political Science, the result of the first year final examinations is yet to be published after ten months. Results of other departments' year final examination, which were subsequently held with this department's examinations, were published at least six months earlier.

Officials of the examination controller's office said they did not receive the tabulation sheet from the department.
