Admission test

DU likely to introduce some new rules

Dhaka University authorities is going to introduce some new rules in the upcoming admission test, likely to be held in the last week of April, official sources said, reports UNB.

"One point would be deducted for each mistake in the MCQ system test," sources said.

Besides, minimum total marks of SSC and HSC examinations for filing application by a candidate are likely to be raised by 50 marks from the previous year.

The decision on the rules will be placed in the upcoming Syndicate meeting scheduled for March 10.
