

Int'l literacy day today

International Literacy Day will be observed today (Sunday) in Bangladesh and elsewhere in the world, reports UNB.

Some 32 government and non-government organisations related to literacy interventions have jointly organised various programmes to mark the occasion.

Besides, different socio-cultural, UN and voluntary organisations have chalked out programmes with the objective to create awareness among the people.

The day's programmes include discussion, rally and seminar. Newspapers will bring out special supplements while radio and television will put up programmes highlighting significance of the day.

President Abdur Rahman Biswas in a message on the occasion called upon all irrespective of their party affiliation to come forward unitedly to free the nation from the curse of illiteracy.
