APSU call not to give shelter to Ershad's collaborators

Staff Correspondent

All-party Student Unity (APSU) on Friday urged all democratic political parties not to give shelter to the collaborators of the autocratic government of Ershad. There is no scope of giving protection of those who were behind the Ershad government, APSU asserted.

Criticising the role of the collaborators of Ershad government, APSU alerted the democratic parties to remain on guard against such opportunists. APSU demanded punishment to those responsible for committing excesses under Ershad government. It hoped that no political party would tarnish its image by giving shelter to such identified people. Any party which would give shelter to such heinous people, would face people's wrath, APSU said.

Walkathon held

Meanwhile, All-Party Student Unity (APSU) on Friday organised walkathon from Dhaka University to the old part of the city to mobilise public opinion for maintaining communal harmony and uphold the spirit of Liberation War and democratic atmosphere in the country.

The APSU walkathon which began from Aparajaya Bangla paraded different streets of the old city areas. Leaders of All-Party student Unity met Babu Lal Chakrabarty, chief priest of Dhakeswari temple. They also met the policemen on duty there and urged them to take stern action against these responsible for the communal violence.

The APSU leaders who participated in the walkathon included Habibur Rahman Habib, Khairul Kabir Khokan, Nazmul Huq Prodhan, Asim Kumar Ukil, Mostafa Faruk, Nur Ahmed Bakul, Nasiruddoza, Abdus Sattar, A.S.M. Kamal.
