Islamic University

Sir,

Frequent session jam in the Islamic University has made our life miserable. Regular campus violence, extreme student and teacher politics, loose administration and non-academic activities have turned our campus into a hotbed of nasty party politics in place of a pure educational campus.

Every subject has to face a three to four year's session jam which is really unfortunate for every student. The whole educational environment becomes vitiated! How long are we going to suffer? Are we sliding back in to the dark age? It seems we are heading towards a great calamity. It is high time the administration took suitable measures to restore normalcy.
