British Professor calls on DU V-C

Varsity Correspondent

Prof. L.M. Cook, head of the Department of Environmental Biology, University of Manchester, called on Dhaka University Vice-Chancellor Prof. Emazuddin Ahmed on Wednesday at the latter's office.

Prof. Cook is now visiting Dhaka as a guest of the University to help upgrade the syllabus of environmental studies in the Zoology Department and also to formulate a project proposal on Coastal Environmental Studies. The visit has been jointly sponsored by Dhaka University and the British Council. The Vice-Chancellor sought cooperation from Professor Cook and his university in the field of environment studies. Mr. Cook assured the V-C to extend all supports and help in this field, according to a University Press release.

The meeting was attended by Prof. Kazi Zaker Hossain, Dr. Shahdat Ali, Dr. Gulshan Ara, Latifa and Biological Sciences Faculty Dean S.M.A. Faiz.
