Members of the student organisations informed the meeting that they had no connection with the incident.

Meanwhile, the Dhaka University campus remained tense on Wednesday following the arrest of 14 students of Jagannath Hall from Institution of Engineers during the Janmastami function on Tuesday night.

Police arrested 14 students of Jagannath Hall of Dhaka University on Tuesday on charge of their alleged involvement in ransacking the institution property during the Janmastami function organised by International Society for Krishna Consciousness (ISKCON).

Immediately after the arrest of students, a large procession was brought out by Dhaka University students on the campus on Tuesday midnight demanding release of the students.

Police intercepted the processionists near Shahabagh crossing when they tried to march towards the police control room.

Police sealed all roads to Dhaka University campus and took necessary measure to resist any untoward incident.
