DU classes resume today

Varsity Correspondent

All classes of the Dhaka University resume today (Monday) after 17 days of holy Eid-ul-Fitr vacation. The university was closed on April 5. Most of the resident students have started returning to their respective halls.

The students of the Mass Communication and Journalism Department of the University will bring out a procession today at about 11:30 a.m. to protest assault on the teachers of the Department by one Zakir Hosain Jamal and his accomplices.
