CU reopens today

CHITTAGONG, May 13.— Classes and the halls of the Chittagong university will re-open tomorrow after remaining closed for over four months and a half, a University Press release said, reports BSS.

The University authority has taken necessary measures to ensure safety and security of the students and a congenial atmosphere on the campus.

All students have been asked to carry identity cards during stay on the campus. Only those students, who have been allotted seats in the halls, will be allowed to stay in the halls, the release said.

Police forces have been deployed on the campus. The university was closed following a bloody clash between two rival student organisations on the campus on December 22 in which one student was killed and many others including some teachers were injured.
