Call to provide text books of high standard

Education Minister Sheikh Shahidul Islam on Wednesday directed the National Curricula and Text Book Board to discharge its responsibilities with devotion in providing flawless text books of a high standard, reports BSS.

Correct and quality text books are the pre-conditions for improving the standard of education, he said.

The Education Minister referred to the relentless efforts being made by President Ershad for improving the standard of education in the country and said that the National Curricula and Text book Board must play an effective role in this connection.

He was talking to the official of the board while paying a surprise visit to the head office in Dhaka.

The Education Minister expressed his dissatisfaction at the standard of the text books and gave some advice for their improvement.

—He directed the Text Book Board to produce suitable text books so that students could acquire definite knowledge of the country and the nation.

The Education Minister directed the concerned officials to take steps for reaching the text books to the students at all levels immediately.

Additional Education Secretary Nuruddin Al-Masud accompanied the Minister.
