

World Literacy Day today

By A Staff Reporter

World Literacy Day will be observed in the country today (Tuesday).

A number of socio-cultural organisations have chalked out programmes in observance of the day.

In Dacca, acting President Mr Justice Abdus Sattar will be the chief guest at a function organised by the Bangladesh Literacy Society at Shilpakala Academy auditorium at 5 p.m.

Mr Osman Ghani, Secretary General of the society will present a paper on the significance of the day at the function.

Bangladesh Parishad in collaboration with the National Cultural Council will organise a seminar at the parishad auditorium at 5 p.m. to celebrate the day.

Well known educationist Mr Ferdous Khan will preside over the function which will be addressed by Mr Mujibur Rahman Khan, Chairman, Board of Editors, Daily Azad and Dr M. Selim, Educational Adviser Ministry of Education. Mr Aminur Rahman Sarkar will present a paper at the seminar.

The seminar will be followed by an exhibition of mass education material and a musical soiree.

041