

Islamic Varsity teachers' indefinite strike from today

KUSHTIA, Aug 19: Teachers of the Islamic University will begin a non-stop strike from tomorrow to press for their long standing demand of rotation in selecting departmental chairmen, instead of seniority, reports UNB.

The decision to go for indefinite strike was taken by the Islamic University Teachers Association (IUTA) at an emergency meeting today with the expiry on Sunday of a one-month ultimatum for implementation of the rotation system.

The ultimatum was given on July 18 from a general meeting of the IUTA which, since 1992, has been demanding introduction of the rotation system for selecting departmental chairmen.
