

BUET students boycott classes

By Our BUET Correspondent

The students of Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology (BUET) boycotted their classes on Saturday in protest against the expulsion of three students by the university authority.

The All-party Students Action Committee, an alliance of Jatiyatabadi Chhatra Dal and Chhatra Sangram Parishad, brought out a large procession in the campus calling upon the authority to withdraw the expulsion orders. They also threatened to boycott the forthcoming students union elections unless the authority accept their demands.
