

Govt to hand over 67 community primary schools to BRAC

The government will hand over 67 community primary schools to Bangladesh Rural Advancement Committee (BRAC) by the end of this month, reports APB.

The NGO will run these schools in 33 thanas of 22 districts at its own expense for two years. It will also train the teachers and ensure standard teaching with close supervision.

Currently, BRAC is running over 34,000 primary schools for poor children, with about 12 lakh students, throughout the country, said a press release.
