

02 FEB 2008

2008 8

Report
2008

HSC exams now from May 29

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The Higher Secondary Certificate (HSC) Examination-2008 under seven education boards has been pushed back a month considering the situation in the Sidr-affected areas of the country and now it will begin on May 29.

The last date to register for the exams has also been pushed back to February 18, sources in education boards said yesterday.

Officials at Dhaka Secondary and Higher Secondary Education Board said the HSC exams would begin on May 29 instead of April 29.

Earlier, the authorities concerned also deferred the Secondary School Certificate (SSC) examination by a month due to the same reason. The SSC exams are scheduled to begin on March 28.