

Dhaka College student killed in gunfight

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

A student of Dhaka College was killed and four other students were injured in a gunfight on campus reportedly between two factions of Bangladesh Chhatra League activists early today.

Deceased Mohammad Faruk, 26, was a master's student. He sustained bullet injuries in his throat and was declared dead at Dhaka Medical College Hospital at 1:20am, Mozammel Haque, inspector of DMCH police camp told The Daily Star.

The injured are: Rakib, Badshah, Saju and Sultan.

Inspector (investigation) Moniruzzaman of New Market Police Station said they rushed to the campus after hearing about a gunfight between students of the college.

Campus sources claimed that Chhatra League activists engaged in the gun battle over establishing supremacy.
