RU student sent to jail in sabotage case

RU Correspondent

A RAJSHAHI Court on Friday sent a Rajshahi University student to jail for his alleged involvement in sabotage.

The court passed the order after police produced Rabiul Aowal, 2nd year student of language department of the university, before the court showing arrest in a sabotage case.

'Rabiul was shown arrest in a sabotage case filed with Motihar police station in November, 2015,' said the police station officer-in-charge, Humayon Kabir.

The OC added that the university authorities on Thursday handed over Rabiul to police alleging that he was involved with Shibir politics.