BUET students continue class boycott

BUET Correspondent

A tense situation was prevailing at Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology (BUET) campus as the students boycotted their classes for the 6th consecutive day yesterday to press home their two point demand. They defied the authorities' order to attend classes.

The demands include abolition of class test system and increase of stipends.

The striking students brought out a procession yesterday.

Meanwhile, a senior teacher of BUET, who is also the head of a department, told a students gathering that members of the Academic Council of BUET were not properly informed of the students' demand.
