buildings of primary schools would be constructed during the current financial year and another 90 such buildings would be constructed during the next two financial years.

The Education Minister was inaugurating the multi-storeyed building of Bhola government primary school at Badda, Dhaka.

Mr. Mahbub said, primary education would be made universal, free and compulsory within three to five years.

Turning to the students, the Education Minister said, knowledge cannot be acquired without reading as sound health cannot be attained without food. Boycotting classes and abstaining from learning would lead to increasing illiteracy and failure in examinations, causing frustration among the students, he observed.

He said, we want to see plenty of books in schools and not bombs.

Mr. Mahbub called upon the guardians to keep their children free from political and social indiscipline.
