Renaming Jahangirnagar University

Why should we retain a name for a university about which we always have to be apologetic. 'Jahangirnagar University' is a meaningless name. No one can tell why the university is so named. The name was chosen by the Pakistan government. After liberation we have hanged many such names but, mysteriously, retained the name Jahangirnagar University. No place in the country bears the name Jahangirnagar and Emperor Jahangir had nothing to do with education in this country.

Therefore, Jahangirnagar University should immediately be re-named 'Savar University' or 'Shaheed Memorial University'.
