Students of West End High School at Azimpur brought out a procession in the city on Wednesday noon demanding execution of Salman Rushdie, author of Satanic Verses. The processionists went in front of British Council on Dhaka University campus area and staged demonstration there.

The officer-in-charge of Ramna Police told this correspondent on Wednesday night that the whole of university area was under heavy police guard. They have taken all precautionary measures to prevent any untoward incident. Policemen are still there since the DUCSU polls were held last month, the O.C. said.
