DUTA to hold examinations if security ensured

By Our DU Correspondent

Dhaka University Teacher's Association (DUTA) Tuesday decided to exclude examinations from its work abstention programme. However, the DUTA observed that the university authorities must ensure security of the examinees and the teachers who will be engaged in holding examinations.

The decision was made at a meeting, presided over by Anwarullah Chowdhury, President of the association.

The teachers observed that they were always ready to extend their cooperation to the university authority but were compelled to go on abstention from work because cause of deteriorating law and order situation and lack of security on the campus.

The teachers opined that the examinations should be taken after ensuring proper security and the DUTA will continue its work abstention programme until the government took necessary measures to eradicate terrorism on the campus.
