Govt college teachers' token strike today

Varsity Correspondent

Teachers of the country's government colleges will observe a token strike today (Thursday) in protest against terrorism in educational institutions and attack on the Principal of Rajbari Government College Prof. Yahya Islam, and his family members.

BCS General Education Association, a body of the Government college teachers, gave the strike call demanding stoppage of violence in the educational arena and adequate security to the students and teachers on the campus.

Teachers will hold separate rallies at their respective college premises as a part of the programme of the Association.
