

অন্তিম 13 NOV 1988

10.8

DAY NOVEMBER 13, 1988

Lutful Haider Chowdhury dead

Staff Correspondent

Professor Lutful Haider Choudhury, eminent educationist and Chairman, National Curriculum and School Text Book Board breathed his last on Friday night at his Amanat Shah Road residence in Dhaka. He was 55.

He has left behind his widow, and two sons. He was buried at the Banani graveyard on Saturday after Namaj-e-janaza at Baitul Mukarram. Of the three brothers, Professor Mofazzal Haider Choudhury, the elder one had embraced martyrdom during the war of liberation. His second brother and noted journalist Ehtesham Haider Choudhury had also died of cardiac arrest a few years back.

Qul Khani of the deceased will be held on Tuesday after Asr prayer at his residence at 68/1, Amanat Shah road, West Rajabazar in Dhaka.

Late Mr. Choudhury began his career as journalist in the daily Sangbad. Afterwards, he had joined the Education Department and served as a teacher in Chittagong College, Rajshahi College, Barisal College, Titumir College. He also worked as Principal of Khulna Government Girls' College, Dhaka Residential Model College, Karatia Sadat University College and Government Shaheed Suhrawardy College. He took higher education on text book from Institute of Education, London University. He also underwent training on education, administration and management from the regional UNESCO centre in Bangkok under UNESCO fellowship. Only on October 13, he took over as Chairman of the National Curriculum and School Text Book Board.

Mr. Choudhury was associated with Kendrio Kochi Kancher Mela, Nazrul Shishu Sikhalaya and many other educational institution of the country.