The govt and non-govt schools are crowded with a huge number of students creating accommodation problem. The problem of class rooms, furniture, scientific apparatus, library facility hinder the education. Most of the rural high schools and colleges depend on govt grants where tuition fees remain arrear for months together.

Schools facing problems

The students with good academic background prefer university job. They do not join teaching profession.

The High Schools and colleges in rural areas have been limping with a host of problems including accommodation of students, shortage of teachers and fund crisis.

The district education officers remain busy with file work in their offices and cannot visit schools. The govt should formulate a policy imposing ban on private coaching and closure of the coaching centres in the country.
