

Health education programme at Open University

Bangladesh Open University will introduce a health education programme to create health awareness among the people, reports UNB.

A full-fledged health awareness education package, as part of non formal education will be prepared for the purpose, says a press release.

Vice-Chancellor of the University DR M Shamsur Ali will hold a discussion with specialists on various branches of medical science at 5 pm today (Friday) at the auditorium of National Academy for Educational Management (NAEM).