CU Syndicate meets today

Chittagong Office

CHITTAGONG, Oct 27:—Chittagong University will hold its Syndicate meeting today after a lapse of about four months.

The Syndicate which is the apex administrative body of the University will deal with a number of outstanding subjects like promotion of teachers, financial matters and development schemes.

Calm has been prevailing in Chittagong University over the past six months. The student bodies appeared to have shun much of their political activities in order to maintain peace and tranquility on the campus. The classes are now held without any hindrance.

The final year students of Chittagong University recently observed rag day with unprecedented pomp and grandeur. The students irrespective of their political affiliation participated in the funfare.

Peace returned to Chittagong University following a consensus of student bodies to eschew politics on the campus, said the Vice-Chancellor Prof. Rafiqul Islam Chowdhury.
