11 fake students delected in CU

Chittagong Office

CHITTAGONG, June 16:—A total of eleven alleged fake students were delected by the Chittagong University authority when they appeared for Viva Voce for admission into the university in the past two days.

The university teachers when found discrepancies in their papers and behaviours during Viva became suspicious and they apprehended them. The teachers then after interrogating found all of them to be fake students.

It appeared that some senior students under a clandestine package deal earlier sat for admission test on behalf of other students and got through the test.

Three of these fake students were handed over to Hathazari police. They are Masud Rana, Jahangir Alam and Mohammad Jashimuddin. Two others—Sadcur Rahman and Alim Uddin were snatched by some unruly persons from university security office.

The Chittagong University authority registered a case with Hathazari thana against all these fake students and seized their original testimonials.
