DU admission form submission date may be extended

Varsity Correspondent

Time for submission of Dhaka University admission forms is likely to be extended for one more week from Saturday next.

Well-placed university sources told the Bangladesh Observer on Tuesday that the authorities already decided to extend the time in the pretext of political unrest and unscheduled vacation of the university.

Meanwhile, more than 52 thousand admission forms have been sold until Tuesday afternoon. Of the sold forms—18960 forms have been sold for "Ka" Unit, 12340 for "Kha" Unit, 8150 for "Ga" Unit and 13500 forms for "Gha" Unit.

A total of 63000 admission forms were sold during last year.

University authorities however think that the number of applications would go up this year. According to them, around 65000 applications would be submitted against 3800 seats of Dhaka University.

There are a total of 3800 seats in Dhaka University. Of the 3800 seats 1100 seats are for "Ka" Unit (Science Group), 1500 for "Kha" Unit (Arts Group), 700 for "Ga" Unit (Commerce Group) and 500 seats for "Gha" Unit (Combined Group).

More than 17 students are likely to be contesting for each seat of Dhaka University this year.
