568

DU opens web-page for admission seekers

Varsity Correspondent

Information on admission to Dhaka University is now just a click away for the Internet users both at home and abroad. The university recently opened a web page that contains all the information on the first year admission Test starting April 30.

The Web-page has been introduced under the library automation project. The Web-page will have other detailed information on Dhaka University, for the first time in the history of DU. Information on admission test are being served through the Internet.

The university will begin distributing application forms for admission to first year honours classes for the academic session 1998-99 from April 5. Last date for submission of forms is April 22.

Admission test of 'Ka' Unit will be held on May 21, 'Kha' on May 7, 'Ga' on April 30 and the test of 'Gha' unit will be held on May 14.

No major change has been made in the test procedure this year.

The address of the Web-page containing information on admission is (http: / www. univd haka.edu).