Jagannath Hall DU Mourning Day today

Dhaka University will observe mourning day today (Monday) paying reach tributes to those students, employees and guests who were killed in Jagannath Hall accident on this day in 1985, reports UNB.

DU authority has chalked out elaborate programmes for observing the day, which include, hoisting black flags atop all dormitories and main buildings of DU and wearing black badges, bringing out mourning procession and placing floral wreaths at the mausoleum in Jagannath Hall and blood donation.

Besides, special prayers will be offered at the hall premises and the DU Central mosques and hall mosques for the salvation of the departed souls.

An exhibition will be held from 9am to 6pm where oil painting and other valuables of the deceased will be displayed.

A memorial meeting and a cultural function will also be held at the Jagannath Hall auditorium, said a press release today.
