Students' call to keep open IU halls

Our Correspondent

ISLAMIC UNIVERSITY (Kush-tia), Jan. 24:—Resident students of different halls of Islamic University urged the University authorities to keep the halls open during the month of Ramzan as examinations of most of the departments will be held during this month.

The university authorities suspended all classes from January 22 to February 29 for Ramzan vacation. But the annual examination or course test of eight departments, Bengali, Law, Economics, Al-hadith, Political Science, Public Administration, Islamic History and Dawah will be held by February 15. Moreover the admission test for Honours courses of the 1995-96 academic session will be held from January 27 to February 1.

Students of Khaleda Zia Hall, Ziaur Rahman Hall and Saddam Hossain Hall submitted memorandum to the university authorities to keep the halls open during Ramzan vacation to facilitate them to complete their examinations.
