

Board syllabus needs
change

Madrasa students eligible to study in DU: HC rule

DU Correspondent

The High Court, (HC) on Tuesday ruled that Madrasa students are eligible to study in the seven Departments of Dhaka University (DU) from which they were earlier barred.

The court, however, opined that the Madrasa Board should consider revising the syllabus to meet the prerequisites for admission into general academic courses.

A HC division bench comprising Justice Mir Hasnat Ali and Justice Shamim Hasnain delivered the verdict, declaring the university's admission rules as illegal that bar the Madrasa students from getting admitted to the disciplines as illegal.

The court issued the rule following a writ petition filed by Ibrahim Khalil and four others