AT LEAST 10 people were injured in a clash between activists of Islami Chharta Shibir and Bangladesh Chhatra league at Laksam on Saturday noon.

Police told New Age that the activists were locked in a clash over establishing supremacy on the admission process at Laksam Nawbab

The two groups gathered on college campus around 2:30pm and were locked in a clash, leaving 10 injured. They were taken to upazila health complex.

During the clash seven shops, one diagnostic centre and one Islami Bank ATM booth were vandalised.

Later, police controlled the situation.
