Dr Milon's blood, can't be betrayed, Khaleda tells APSU leaders

Terrorists to be nabbed, whatever their position

The leaders of All Party Students Union (APSU) had a meeting with Prime Minister Begum Khaleda Zia at her Secretariat office in Dhaka on Monday afternoon, reports BSS.

The student leaders held free and frank discussions with her regarding the situation obtaining in the country's educational institutions including Dhaka University.

Begum Zia asked them to help restore peace and order on the university campus by keeping it free from armed hoodlums and terrorists.

She called upon the students not to give indulgence and shelter to terrorists and armed hoodlums. "The terrorists cannot be anybody's friends", she reminded them.

Begum Zia said the terrorists and armed hoodlums will be dealt with lawfully however powerful they may be and whatever position they may hold in society or in the party.

Education Minister Prof. A Q M Badruddoza Chowdhury was also present on the occasion.

The Prime Minister asked the students to hand over the terrorists and those, who were spoiling the academic atmosphere, to law enforcing agencies and also help them nab.

Begum Zia told the students that concerned authority had already been instructed to arrest the killers of Dr. Shamsul Alam Khan Milon. "We cannot betray the blood of Dr Milon who had paved the way for democracy by shedding his bloods", she said, adding

"we cannot betray Dr Milon's blood by giving shelters to his killers".

The student leaders appreciated that this was for the first time a Prime Minister held free and frank discussions with the leaders of different student organisations on the problems of education and students.

The APSU leaders drew attention of the Prime Minister to the prevailing situation in different universities and other related
