

তারিখ ... ..
 পৃষ্ঠা ১৬ কলাম ... ..

Chittagong Hill Tracts State of Environment
 Edited by Quamrul Islam Chowdhury, Price: Tk 300

Chittagong Hill Tracts (CHT), which forms the southeastern part of Bangladesh, are a rugged, hilly and jungle-clad region having an area of some 5,000 square miles. The name Hill Tracts was given to the region by the British colonial administration in 1860 when by an Act it was withdrawn from the jurisdiction of the civil, criminal and revenue courts and offices of the British administration and placed under a separate regime of a Superintendent of the Hill Tribes. "CHT has been a mass of hills, ravines and cliffs covered with dense bamboo and forests, including different kinds of creepers.

35 Golden Keys To Who You Are And Why You're Here
 JOAN KLEMP - ANTHONY MOORE
 Edited by MARY CARROLL MOORE

Who am I? Why am I here? We ask ourselves these questions all the time. The answers determine our purpose in life, often our very survival. Here, for the very first time ever are thirty-five golden keys to help you unlock the answers to these questions for yourself.

The Cambridge Companion to Heidegger
 Edited by Charles Guignon, Price: Tk 1725

Martin Heidegger is now widely recognized alongside Wittgenstein as one of the greatest philosophers of the twentieth century. He transformed mainstream philosophy by defining its central task as asking the question of being," and he has had a profound impact on such fields as literary theory, theology, psychotherapy, political theory, aesthetics, and environmental studies.

A Bangladesh State of Arsenic 2001
 Edited by Quamrul Islam Chowdhury, Price: Tk 300

Ever since the menace of arsenic was revealed, the Forum of Environmental Journalists of Bangladesh (FEJB) took up the subject for intensive investigation and its members came up with on-the-spot reports, photo-features and earth files on this deadly health and environmental hazard. This book is an outcome of the research and investigative activities carried out by the FEJB in creating public awareness about the hazard of arsenic as well as publicising different measures for mitigating the catastrophe.

The Oxford Tagore Translations
 Edited by Sisir Kumar Das, Price: Tk 95

Tagore's place as a critic has been eclipsed by his fame as a creative writer one of the founders of modern Bengali thought, and among the most perceptive literary analysts in the language. His critical writings is considerable, comprising more than one hundred pieces of varying length. The essays featured in this selection reveal his engagement with the central issues of criticism, as well as with literary theory and aesthetics.

Capital Culture
 Linda McDowell, Price: Tk 1500

Drawing on a range of disciplinary approaches, the various means by which gender segregation is established and maintained are explored. In fascinating detail, the author explains the experiences of men and women working in different rooms to the boardrooms as women, showing that for men, too, there are many ways of doing gender, the places in which they work affect as well as men and women, the places reflect acceptable ways of doing gender. Capital Culture is essential reading for upper-level students and above in Sociology, Geography, Social Psychology, Anthropology and Management Studies.

