No crisis of seats for higher education this year

All students who passed the Higher Secondary Certificate (HSC) examinations would be able to get admission for higher education as there is no crisis of seats this year, reports BSS.

This was informed in a meeting at the education ministry on admission to first year of bachelor degree on Thursday.

Chaired by Education Minister Nurul Islam Naheed, the meeting was attended by vice-chancellors of the public universities, said an official release.

It was disclosed in the meeting that there are 4,37,171 seats in the country's public and private universities, medical colleges and other institutions. On the other hand, 4,42,389 students passed the HSC and equivalent examinations this year.

Moreover, some educational institutions have informed that they would increase the number of seats, the meeting was told.

The education minister said the quality of education could not be improved equally in all institutions of the country.
