

Six BCL men assault teachers in JU

JU Correspondent

AT LEAST six activists of the Jahangirnagar University unit Chhatra League, the student wing of the ruling Awami League, on Saturday assaulted three teachers in the central playground on the campus.

The teachers are Mahmudul Hasan, Ebrahim Hossen and Sudip Pal of the biochemistry and molecular biology department.

Campus sources said that the students had assaulted the teacher during a clash centring on a comment from among the spectators during an inter-department cricket match between the physics and the biochemistry and molecular biology department.

During an altercation caused by the remark, Mahmudul, Ebrahim and Sudip came forward to settle the matter and students of physics had assaulted them.

Baijid, Saddam, Rabbi, Nurul, Mannan, and Jewel of physics are said to have attacked the teachers.

After the incident, biochemistry and molecular biology students demanded suspension of the attackers. A member on the proctorial committee rushed there to contain the situation.

Mahmudul submitted two memorandums to the proctor Shohe! Ahmed and chief of the tournament committee ATM Atikur Rahman.

The proctor said that action would be taken against the students responsible after an investigation.

The attackers, however, brushed aside the allegation of assault and demanded an impartial investigation.
