THE Shahjalal University of Science and Technology authorities on Wednesday removed the dean of its business administration faculty, seemingly conceding to the demand of the students.

Nazrul Islam, who was removed from the dean's charge, was at the same time relieved from his responsibilities as the chairman of the business administration department.

Business administration associate professor Syed Taufiq Mahmood Hasan has taken office as acting chairman of the department while university vice-chancellor Saleh Uddin has taken charge of the faculty.

Taufiq Mahmood confirmed his taking over the charge of the department chair.

'I have taken the charge as the acting chairman today as department chair Nazrul Islam is ill,' he, however, added.

Repeated attempts to contact the vice-chancellor over phone failed.

The students of business administration faculty began movement on January 20, demanding removal of Nazrul Islam from both the positions of faculty dean and department chair, accusing him of gross mismanagement, fund appropriation and misbehaving with the students.
