Latifur's book on interim govt presented to PM

Chief Advisor of the past caretaker government Justice Latifur Rahman on Thursday presented to Prime Minister Khaleda Zia his recently published book on the affairs of the country's interim administration, reports UNB.

The book is titled 'Tattabodhayak Sarkarer Dingoli 'O Amar Kotha (The Days of Caretaker Government and My Say)' that shed light on major national issues of that times.

Receiving the book, Begum Zia thanked him and said the future generation would surely derive benefit and a direction from those who perform important role in running state and government affairs.

She said those who are endowed with creative faculties should write on important national issues reflecting their experiences during their leisure.

"It will benefit the entire society and the new generation will also get inspired to write on their important roles in future," the Prime Minister remarked.
