Staff Correspondent 30 March, 2026, 01:10

Closed-circuit television cameras are going to be installed in every room of the examination centres where the coming Secondary School Certificate and equivalent examinations will be held.

The education ministry has taken the initiative to hold the examinations, scheduled to start from April 21, in a fair and cheating-free environment, according to an office order of the Directorate of Secondary and Higher Education under the ministry.

The directorate sent the office order, issued on Saturday, to all the secretaries of the examination centres and the heads of the educational institutions concerned.

The office order contained 11 instructions for all the officials concerned at the field level to follow.

The first instruction asks for making sure that CCTV cameras have been installed at every room of each examination centre selected for the 2026 exams.

Other instructions include—activating the CCTV cameras that have already been installed but are currently inoperative; preserving all footage captured by CCTV cameras; hanging a clock with hands in every room of all exam centres; deploying sufficient security personnel to ensure at all centres; ensuring that no teacher or examinee can use mobile phones in the exam halls except the centre secretary; preventing all types of cheating during exams, including by body search of the examinees; posting special instructions at the main gate of the exam centres for examinees and guardians; ensuring adequate lighting and ventilation at all exam centres; and taking strict legal action in cases of violation.

Earlier, the decision for installing CCTV cameras at examination centres was taken at a meeting held at the education ministry at Bangladesh Secretariat in the capital.
